INDIANA!

The Republican State Convention.

Col. R. S. Robertson Nominated for Lieutenant Governor on the First Ballot.

The Platform Declares Squarely for Local Option, and Senator Harrison Speaks.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

The Faithful Gathering at Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 2.—The city is alive with republican politicians and the principal hotels are crowded to their utmost capacities. "All present or accounted for," may be said in reference to the delegates, and they certainly had an interesting time of it yesterday. It was a field day for the candidates; they realized it, and made their last efforts their best. There is every indication that the personnel of the convention will be above the republican average. The crowd is large, but the enthusiasm is not so great as might be expected in such an assemblage. One striking feature prominently displayed by those who make up the lobby is the ignorance manifested touching the names of the candidates and the names of the offices they are running for.

At the caucus of the Allen county delegation last evening, it was decided that Allen county present no candidate for lieutenant governor. Col. Sam B. Sweet was elected chairman of the delegation and will announce its vote in the convention. It is expected that other counties will announce Col. Robertson for lieutenant governor. The Twelfth district caucus convened with ex-Senator McCortney, of Steuben, as chairman and T. P. Keator as secretary. It reported to the convention the following members of the committee.

Permanent organization, G. W. Wilton, Allen.

Resolutions, Judge Walter Olds, Whitely.

Vice president, Capt. J. B. White, Allen.

Credentials, Senator Drake, Lagrange. Assistant secretary, J. P. Prickett, Noble.

THE CONVENTION.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 2.—Republican state convention met at 11 o'clock to-day. Senator Harrison was chosen chairman and John L. Rupee, of Richmond, secretary. The committee on resolutions reported their report, arranging the national and state administrations and embodying a platform which was unanimously adopted.

The platform begins by the declaration that the security of the government rests on equal, intelligent and honest ballot, and with the renewal of the protest against ballot frauds, charging the democratic party in Indiana with a flagrant crime against free suffrage in the passage of an infamous gerrymander. It favors protection to workingmen against oppressive corporations and monopolies. It opposes the importation of contract labor and the unfair competition of convict labor, and recommends a law for the preservation of the life and health of workingmen. It favors the principle of protection for development of our own resources; condemns the declaration of the Indiana democracy in favor of free trade, and declares that gold, silver and paper circulation should be kept on equal and permanent values.

It favors civil service law and its application to the state administration wherever practicable. It favors the reservation of public lands for small holdings by actual settlers as against the holders by foreigners. It favors the control of railroad and other corporations, and more liberal pension law provisions. It recommends an appropriation for a soldiers' monument at the state capital. It favors the division of the soldiers' orphan home from home of feeble minded children, a strict honesty in the distribution of the school fund, a just law for the compensation of all public officials, striking out the word "white" from article 12 of the constitution, so that colored men may become militia.

It recommends a revision of the tax laws, congratulates the people on the unanimous opposition of all classes to the imported crime of anarchism, and declares that the attempted domination of the political parties by the liquor league must be defeated and favors local option.

It expresses sympathy for Ireland's attempt to gain home rule, endorses the public acts of Senator Harrison and of the representative congress. It mourns the death of Grant and favors the congressional appropriation for his monument in Washington.

The platform closes with allusion to Colfax, whose name was coupled with Grant and whose memory deserved preservation.

When Senator Harrison, on taking the chair, rose to address the audience of 5,000 persons, he was greeted with round after round of applause. His speech was an arraignment of the democratic administration, both national and state. He dwelt with bitter emphasis on the gerrymander by the last democratic legislature. He said this is the dominant and controlling question in the campaign in Indiana, and he would have all bear in mind that this disfranchisement does not simply operate upon the republicans, but affects the entire majority vote of the state.

The convention proceeded to the nominations. R. S. Robertson, of Allen county, was nominated for lieutenant governor; Charles L. Griffin, of Lake, for secretary of state, and Bruce Carr, of Orange county, for auditor.

J. A. Lempke, Vanderburg, treasurer. A resolution offered by R. W. Thompson, extending sympathy to the Charleston sufferers and pledging the convention to a material contribution in their behalf, was approved with great enthusiasm.

A CONGLOMERATE PARTY.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 2.—A meeting of the Farmer's alliance, greenbackers, etc., was held here yesterday. There were about forty representatives present from Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois, and representatives from Indianapolis swelled the number in attendance to nearly two hundred.

The only business transacted was the adoption of a series of resolutions and the appointment of committees to arrange for the national meeting at Cincinnati on the 22d of February, 1887. The Knights of Labor appeared to be the predominating influence in the meeting.

MISSOURI REPUBLICANS.

SEDALIA, Mo., Sept. 2.—The republican state convention adjourned sine die this morning at 4:15. The question of submitting the proposed amendment to the constitution was compromised. The plank in question as adopted affirms that whenever any large number of voters petition the legislature for the submission of an amendment providing a change in the organic law of the state, it is the duty of that body to grant the petition. J. G. Cravens, of Kansas City, was nominated for supreme judge.

A. C. Harris was nominated as the candidate of the republicans for congress in the Seventh Indianapolis district yesterday.

Yellow Fever in the South.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 2.—Great excitement was created to-day all along the lake shore when it became known that Drs. Hunt, Salomon and Seales had decided the case of fever at Biloxi to be yellow fever. At Biloxi a panic prevailed, and hundreds of persons came to this city by train to-day. They say they do not fear yellow fever, but are not willing to suffer the inconveniences of a quarantine.

A Fund for the Bates Children. RICHMOND, Ind., Sept. 2.—A fund was started to-day for Mattie and Stella Bates, aged seven and five, daughters of Nathaniel S. Bates, hanged last Thursday, to be invested for their benefit. They are living now at Hagerstown with their grandmother.

Doesn't Want to be Vice-President.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Senator Voorhees denies point-blank that he would give up the senatorship to become vice-president.

Brewers Strike.

St. Louis, Sept. 1.—There is a strike of 100 brewing employees to-day and 600 will go out to-morrow. The brewers demanded they should quit their union. They refused, hence the strike.

The Czar Objects.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.—The city is gaily decorated in honor of the return of Prince Alexander to Bulgaria, and is crowded with visitors. The Czar of Russia refuses to approve the return of Prince Alexander and says he will yet extricate Bulgaria from her present condition.

TWO MEN KILLED.

A Dreadful Logging Accident in Michigan.

SHERBOYGAN, Mich., Sept. 2.—A terrible accident occurred on Blodgett & Byrnes' logging railroad, eight miles from here, yesterday. An engine left the train at the top of the grade, took one brakeman and went a short distance to take on wood. While the cars at the top of the grade were being loaded, one car got away from the men and ran down the grade into the engine. The engineer, fireman and brakeman had just finished loading the tender, and got on the engine to start back, when the car struck them. Ernest Wilcox, fireman, and James Mosher, brakeman, were instantly killed. The engineer escaped alive with serious injuries, but not fatal.

An Indiana Volcano.

MOONEY, Sept. 2.—Persons just in from the northeastern corner of Lawrence county tell interesting stories of volcanic indications in the earth near there, very similar to what occurred some time ago at Bald Mountain, N. C. Rumbblings in the earth are heard, and occasionally sharp explosions occur. On the farm of Christian Linkenbach, one of the most severe of these explosions occurred, not over 150 yards from the house. The noise was like the explosion of a steam boiler, and the earth was torn up for yards around. A cloud of dust and smoke ascended sixty feet high. In it were pieces of mineral, stumps of trees, roots and rocks. The earth for yards around was covered with the debris, and a great hole was left in the ground, very deep, which has not yet been explored. Among the debris were fragments of ore which were almost solid iron. The country is very rough and broken and well filled with minerals.

FOR $5,000.

J. B. Neizer Sues the Gazette for Damages.

For a few days the Gazette has insinuated that J. B. Neizer, a candidate for auditor, was interested in the Bohemian oats business. They had a bond which Mr. Neizer declared to be a forgery. The Gazette published the bond this morning with Neizer's denial, adding that he said in that office that his only offense was in introducing Bohemian oats agents. This brought the controversy to a question of authority and late this afternoon Mr. Neizer sued T. P. Keator and B. M. Holman, of the Gazette, for $5,000 for their assertions against him.

Mr. Neizer embodies all the Gazette articles in his complaint, but gives especial prominence to the Gazette this morning. Mr. Keator is at Indianapolis and Mr. Holman could not be seen as the suit was filed late. Both sides have engaged counsel.

Mr. W. E. McDermut is acting city editor of the Gazette, during Mr. Keator's absence.

South Bend, Ind., is supplied with water from sixteen artesian wells, with a capacity of 16,000,000 gallons daily.

The St. John's German Lutheran church will hold their annual mission festival at Reidmiller's grove next Sunday.

Manager Perry to-day received notice that all messages for the relief of the Charleston sufferers would be sent free by the Western Union Telegraph company.

The Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad still finds it necessary to remind their passengers by placards that children between the ages of five and twelve must pay half fare.

Harry Worden has organized a gadding gun squad and Adjutant General Koontz writes that a gadding gun will be sent here inside a month, to be kept in the government buildings.

The many friends of Colonel R. S. Robertson will be pleased to learn of his nomination as lieutenant governor by the republican state convention at Indianapolis to-day. The colonel is very popular in his own party, and has many warm personal friends among the bourgeois.

There was an enthusiastic prayer meeting last evening at the Baptist church. There were 255 present and 152 testimonials. Pastor Northrop is just entering upon his fifth year. During the four years over 400 have been added to the church and all have been loyal but twenty. In the mean time between sixteen and seventeen thousand dollars have been raised for current and benevolent expenses. The outlook for the coming year was never more hopeful.

LIFE!

Appears at Wrecked Charleston.

The Frightened Population Is Rescuing the Dead, Aiding the Wounded and Figuring the Damage.

Efforts to Relieve the City Which Still is Shocked by Continuous Waves.

CHARLESTON.

How the Wrecked City Looks To-day.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 2.—In addition to the damages previously reported, the South Carolina railroad office, on John street, are cracked, but stand. Wm. C. Bird & Co's. wholesale paint store was shaken down. W. E. Holmes & Co., next door, are in a similar condition. Part of the walls of the bagging factory were destroyed. The principal streets are littered with bricks and rubbish. The city hall escaped damage but the steeples of St. Michael's and St. Philip's churches will have to come down. The massive portico of the St. Michael's was wrenched from the body of the church and the cracks in the main building extends to the foundation. All of the portico of Bishop Northrop's residence was swept away. The Academy of Music appears to be uninjured. The Charleston hotel loss is the ceilings and part of the coping. The German Artillery hall is somewhat injured. The water works building and reservoir are uninjured. Several buildings on Haynes street were gutted. The injury to St. Philip's church, previously mentioned, is almost indescribable. Several arches of the pier above the clock tower were torn down and thrown out. Among the residences seriously damaged are those of Captain Dawson, of the News and Courier; General Siegling, the late St. Julian ravenel; L. G. Trenholm, C. O. Wittie, George Gibbons, J. L. Tobias, H. Bulwinkle, Preston Smith and Alderman Murray.

On Sullivan's Island the shock was severe, but comparatively little injury done, and no lives were lost. Many summer visitors came up to the city this morning.

On James island the earth cracked in many places, and from the fissures issued large lodges of cold water, mixed with sand and blue mud. The clocks everywhere stopped at about 9:40.

At Mount Pleasant there was a general shaking up, but no loss of life. There are many fissures and cavities from which fresh water and mud come. Fine sand has also come to the surface in Charleston.

It is contended here that there was a twist or turn in the motion of the earthquake, and it had not simply an undulating motion. Articles of furniture and lamps have been found which are turned partly around, in addition to visible effects of simple wave motion.

RELIEF FUND STARTED.

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 2.—The American, last night, opened a subscription list for the relief of the sufferers by the Charleston disaster and headed it with $500.

GREAT EXCITEMENT.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The Western Union officials state that no messages sent to Charleston last night could be delivered on account of the general confusion. Hotels are empty and people have deserted their dwellings, encamped in the open lots and so cannot be found. The main office of the Western Union Telegraph company in Charleston was badly wrecked, batteries destroyed and all instruments ruined by falling bricks and plastering. An office has been opened about a mile and a half from the old one and two wires have been placed in working order. None of their employees were seriously injured.

At 5 this morning all their operators were compelled to quit their posts and seek rest. The excitement had been so great that for forty-eight hours they had obtained no sleep. The Western Union company desire to announce through the Associated press, that they will gladly forward to Charleston any contributions of money for the sufferers and messages pertaining thereto free of charge. At one this morning there was another slight shock of earthquake felt, but it did no damage. The company hopes to get all wires working to-day.

FREE MESSAGES.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The Western

Union Telegraph company has issued the following order: To general and district superintendents:—You are authorized to send free messages of relief for the Charleston sufferers.

NORVIN GREEN, Pres.

UNCLE SAM'S SHELTER.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—General Drum, acting secretary of war, has directed that tents be sent to Charleston to shelter the homeless people, and as the railroad communications are interrupted, revenue cutters will transport the tents to the distressed city.

GETTING AT THE FACTS.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 2.—People are just beginning to pick up courage to come out. Efforts are being made to clear paths through the streets for the passage of vehicles and pedestrians. The city once more begins to show some signs of life. People have done nothing but huddle on squares. A small detail of relief parties are going on to find the dead in the debris or succor the wounded. The first systematized effort to get at the fact is now being made.

A list of the dead recognized and reported this morning at this time, 11 o'clock, foots up to sixteen, and the search has only commenced. The list of wounded will go into the hundreds. About seven-eighths of the houses and public buildings in the city are either damaged or wrecked. Even the historic St. Michael's and St. Philip's churches are so badly wrecked that it is feared they will have to be taken down. Waves from 9:55 Tuesday night, have been coming about once every five or six hours. There has been none now for twelve hours, and strong hopes are entertained that the horrors are about over.

OTHER PLACES.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 2.—Specials to the News and Courier from points in South Carolina, ranging from the extreme northwest to the sea coast, reports severe shocks of earthquake, with more or less damage to property, though without loss of life so far as known. In Orangeburg the people became so much alarmed that many moved to Columbia. Loss $3,000,000.

CHARLESTON, Sept. 2.—As the details of the calamity in this city are gathered its effects become more and more alarming. It is also feared that much distress will prevail, as by far the larger part of those whose property has been destroyed or seriously damaged belong to the poorer classes. The aggregate loss is expected to reach three millions. The wharves, warehouses and business facilities of the city are generally unaffected by the catastrophe, and Charleston is as ready as ever for the transaction of business.

DEAD AND WOUNDED.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 2.—The official total of deaths is 33, and wounded probably 100. Business is still suspended, the whole attention of the people being given for providing provisions and residences safe. Bricklayers have advanced the rates to $6 a day. The city council will probably meet to-morrow to provide measures for relieving the poor. Expressions of gratitude are heard on all sides for the assistance offered Charleston.

They Found the Package.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.—A rumor, which is quite generally credited, states that the Adams Express company received news last evening of the finding of a package of money amounting to nearly $30,000, which was shipped by the Pennsylvania company to Shamokin, Pa., about ten days ago, and which disappeared in some manner from the express company's office in this city. It is said the package was accidentally placed in the wrong safe and sent to some point in Iowa.

Stockslinger's Address.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—S. M. Stockslinger, assistant commissioner of general land office, has issued an address to the democratic voters of the Third Indiana congressional district, withdrawing from the contest for a seat in congress from that district this fall.

Boat Races.

ROUSE'S POINT, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Homer won the sculling race here to-day by eight lengths. He made the first mile and a half in 10 minutes 10 seconds, and three miles in 21 minutes 15 seconds.

James Bruce, of Albion, has removed to Fort Wayne.

Will Fleming has left Narragansett Pier and will arrive home this week.

The salvation army at LaPorte was rotten-egged and applied again Sunday night.

The weather indications for Indiana are fair weather, nearly stationary temperature.

A Woman Kills Her Seducer and Then Commits Suicide, at Xenia, Ohio.

ROBBED OF $5,000.

An Indiana Farmer Victimized by Sharks.

COLUMBUS, Ind. Sept. 2.—Yesterday afternoon William McClintic, a wealthy farmer of this county, borrowed $5,000 from the First National bank to close a bargain of some sort with two strangers. He started for the country with the larger one of the two and the cash, and when they had reached a secluded spot the other man put in an appearance and the two robbed him and made their escape. They took a buggy belonging to a livery stable here. The men had been working on McClintic for ten days to catch him. The victim is eighty years old, worth $75,000, and accounted one of the shrewdest men in the county in handling money, although he can neither read nor write. Sheriff Brown returned this morning, after an all night search for a trace of the robbers. At Edinburg the large man hired a boy and a rig, saying he was going to Franklin, but turned west and is heading in the direction of Bloomington. Telegrams, describing the robber, have been sent to all the towns in that part of the state, and the sheriff will go this afternoon to Martinsville, where a supposed trace of them is said to exist. The large man represented himself to McClintic as Louis Lehman, a well known dry goods merchant of this city.

FAITH CURE.

A Remarkable Case in Indiana.

ANDERSON, Ind. Sept. 2.—A most remarkable faith cure has occurred near this city. The happy subject (Albert Wampler) related his experience to your correspondent this morning in a graphic manner, as follows: "About five years ago I was stricken with pains in my limbs. The doctors pronounced it rheumatism and I was treated for the same, but I failed to receive any relief whatever and I continually grew worse. I could not take a single step without the aid of crutches or cane, and at no time have I been free from pain until August 24, when all at once, during a season of prayer held for my special benefit, I arose, laid aside my crutches, and to the utter astonishment and surprise of all I walked unaided. At the same time all pain left me and while I experienced some weakness occasioned from my long confinement yet I am perfectly well and sound and gaining in strength every day. The disease had so deformed me that I was unable to straighten up, being compelled to go bent over, but now, thank God, you see I am as straight as any one."

Mr. Wampler is about twenty-seven years old, and he firmly believes he was cured through faith in prayer.

A Seducer Assassinated.

XENIA, O., Sept. 2.—At Bowersville, Greene county, last night, a shotgun loaded with slugs was fired through the parlor window of the hotel, killing Jos. Zeiner, the man who a few months since refused to fulfill his promise of marriage to Rosa Johnston, of Jamestown, who then blew her brains out, after attempting fruitlessly to kill Zeiner. The young man when killed was enjoying the society of two young ladies, all three sitting on a sofa. The girls were not injured. There is no clue to the assassin, and probably never will be.

The curious question has been asked why oaks and elms are especially liable to be struck by lightning. It was declared in 1787 that the elm, chestnut, oak, and pine were the trees most often struck in America, and in 1860 G. J. Symonds stated that the elm, oak, ash, and poplar were the most frequently struck in England. A Magdeburg record, covering ten years, reports injuries to 265 trees, 165 being oaks, 34 Scotch firs, 32 pines, and 20 beeches. It has been suggested that the frequency with which oaks are struck is due to the presence of iron in the wood.

MARK TWAIN was asked by a Hartford base-ball enthusiast to give a subscription to the local club. He sent a check for $25 and a letter in which he said there was only one thing that prevented him from contributing $50 instead of $25. He is not very well up in base-ball, and when he goes out to the grounds he takes a seat near blank, (mentioning the name of a prominent base-ball man.) "I always politely ask him to give me points on the game," the letter continues, "but instead of that he looks very hard at me, and I am afraid he will drop me over the grand-stand some time or another."

Not many years ago Mr. Tilden formed an attachment for a daughter of the late Prof. S. F. B. Morse, and offered her his heart and hand. The lady did not look with favor on his suit, although the advantages of the connection were so great and it was so warmly advocated by her own family. Mr. Tilden's proposal was twice declined. But his want of success made no difference in the friendly feeling of the parties concerned, and when, shortly afterward, Miss Leila Morse married Mr. Frank Rummel, the well-known pianist, one of the wedding presents was a $1,000 check from Mr. Tilden.

DONALDSON, the swimmer, recently swam the Mohawk at Schenectady, tied hand and foot. A young athlete thought he could do the same, and after a friend had well tied him, he started to cross the river. Half way across he gave out and went down. His frightened friend in a boat tried to get him into the boat, but couldn't. Neither could he untie the ropes. Meanwhile the swimmer was taken with severe cramps. Finally the man in the boat tied a rope around the swimmer's neck, and thus towed the half-drowned athlete to shore, where it took considerable rubbing and stimulant to reduce the cramps and get the youth in good condition again.

The old proverb is certainly true in the case of Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purifying Pellets," which are little, sugar-wrapped parcels, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, containing as much cathartic power as is done up in the biggest, most repulsive-looking pill. Unlike the big pills, however, they are mild and pleasant in their operation—do not produce gripping pains, nor render the bowels constive after using.

A SUBMARINE TORPEDO BOAT.

Jules Verne's Dream Realized in a Craft Constructed by a Yankee Inventor.
There is now in New York harbor a marine wonder in the shape of a boat that will sail under water for miles, or that can remain at the bottom for days without inconvenience to the crew, who can at any time leave the boat and come to the surface without accident. The boat is the invention of Professor J. H. L. Tuck, and is intended for use in harbor defense by attaching torpedoes to the bottom of hostile vessels, then backing away to a safe distance and firing the torpedoes through electric wires connected with them.

THE PEACEMAKER UNDER A VESSEL.
This boat is aptly called "the Peacemaker," from the fact that its possibilities of destruction are so great that it renders it a question whether it will pay the powers to go on constructing great ironclads costing millions of dollars apiece, that can be demolished in an instant by a little vessel like this, costing but a few thousands. The larger and heavier the ironclad the better and surer would she fall a prey to a destroyer that would steal on her from underneath. When war is carried on with such wholesale destructiveness the great powers will call a halt, so that inventions like this boat tend toward a more general peace.
The Peacemaker is 30 feet long, with a breadth of beam of 8½ feet, and depth of 7½ feet. The bow and stern taper off from amidships, and the forward end of the vessel is surmounted by a dome 12 inches high which is set with glass and just large enough for the pilot to get his head into. Admission to the boat is through a circular scuttle abaft of the dome. At the stern there is a propeller and a rudder of ordinary fashion, and two horizontal rudders with which the boat may be deflected up or down. The interior is half filled with machinery and mechanical devices, including a powerful little Westinghouse engine. Compressed air is stored in six-inch pipes running around the interior, and arrangements are made by which air may be supplied by chemicals. A gauge registers the depth of the vessel beneath the surface. Light is furnished by the incandescent electric lamp.

THE TORPEDOES ATTACHED.
When used in warfare the Peacemaker will sail away from its place in hiding on shore, sail under water and meet an approaching vessel. The pilot removes the domes and stands in a diver's suit in a well with half of his body projecting above the boat. He releases two torpedoes attached together with a chain and fastened to corked magnets, which will attach themselves tenaciously to the iron or steel bottom of the vessel. The torpedo boat is then steered away to a safe distance, and the torpedoes fired by electricity.
In some recent experiments the Peacemaker sailed for a couple of miles under the Hudson river, coming to the surface and diving under vessels at will. She was then sunk in fifty feet of water, and the crew left her and came to the surface to demonstrate how easily they could abandon in case of accident or hide her on the bottom in a war emergency.

FROM BOSTON.

A Scrap from Prentice Mulford About Writers.

(Special Correspondence.) BOSTON, Aug. 30.—Able and interesting writers are increasing at a rate alarming to those long in the profession. "Everybody" now writes and almost everybody writes well. New literary stars of second and third class magnitudes are constantly appearing in the horizon. A new constellation rises, sets and starves about once in seven years. The average pay on newspapers may be $12 a week. When the literary horse is worked out, he or she goes off in a corner and dies quietly and miserably. Of late people's writings are most valued who have done something worthy of note and can tell of it. An ex-Confederate or Union general who tells his story in a magazine probably gets as much for it as the mere Bohemian receives for half a year's work in telling other people's stories. An article from Jay Gould or John L. Sullivan would bring the average Bohemian's yearly salary. This is as it should be. People want that those who have done something should tell themselves how they did it. The mere writer who can do nothing but write is really now a medieval institution. Besides, the profession, as connected with newspapers, is not respectable. To be known as a "newspaper man" or "correspondent" is to be practically tabooed in fashionable and business circles. A "newspaper feller," male or female, is regarded as a sort of spy or eavesdropper, ready to pounce on any bit of gossip, real, manufactured or inferred, and tell it for a price. Of course, the public wants the gossip, still they are disposed to regard its collectors as safe only when they are poaching on other people's preserves. These observations are intended only for the latitude of Boston. PRENTICE MULFORD.

Forty years past a boon was sent That carried healing where it went To suffering humanity. We might relate its virtues great, Yet not be charged with vanity, For is it not by all confessed Of remedies POND'S EXTRACT the best? Beware, however, ye who buy, And never imitations try. If disappointment you'd not own, Insist on POND'S EXTRACT alone.

They are not sorry. There is one thing nobody ever regrets—that is, the day they first adopted Parker's Tonic as their regular family medicine. Its range is so wide, and its good effects so sure, that nothing else, except good nursing, are needed in a great majority of cases. Buy it, try it, and afterwards it will not require any praise from us.

If any evidence is wanted as to the continued and growing popularity of diamonds as ornaments it would be furnished alone by the statistics of the United States Treasury Department. In 1867 the total valuation of precious stones imported into the United States was $1,318,617. In 1872, five years later, the valuation had nearly doubled, being $2,350,731. In 1880 it was $6,870,000; in 1884 it had reached $9,139,000; in 1885 it exceeded $11,000,000; and when the figures for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1886, are given to the public, it will be found that there has been a still larger increase, the aggregate coming close to $14,000,000. The diamond is to precious stones what gold is to metals. It is indestructible. Further than that, it is a convenient form in which to consolidate wealth for storage. Many leading jewelry houses enter into special agreements with their customers, agreeing to pay in cash the full amount paid for the jewels less 10 per cent. and the cost of the settings, upon the return to them of the diamonds within one year from the date of the purchase. They furthermore agree to pay a fair proportionate price for the settings if in good condition. In times of financial uncertainty the diamond business always enjoys a boom.

A sovereign remedy for pain—Salvation Oil; twenty five cents. Beware of counterfeits.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF PURE Cod Liver Oil, With Hypophosphates, In General Debility, Emaciation, Consumption and Wasting in Children, is a most valuable food and medicine. About one hundred persons climb to the top of Washington monument every day.

Hay Fever. I have been a periodical sufferer from hay fever (a most annoying and loathsome affliction) since the summer of 1879, and until I used Ely's Cream Balm, was never able to find any relief until cold weather. I can truthfully say that Cream Balm cured me. I regard it as of great value and would not be without it during the hay fever season.—L. M. Georgia, Binghampton, N. Y.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub wakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Jan. 19—codawlv.

A man was run over by the south-bound midnight train on the Wabash, last night, a half mile south of Kokomo, and instantly killed. He was picked up an hour later by Conductor Ralback, of the north-bound train. His body was mangled in a horrible manner, but the remains were recognized to-day as those of Jackson Forth, a single man, aged forty-two years, and who resided near Galveston, Ind.

Dr. J. W. Younge had a long talk with Captain Pratt, the Indian agent, last night, at the McKinney house. The captain stated that Major General R. H. Milroy, formerly of Indiana, and one of the bravest generals in the late war, was living in abject poverty at Olympia, Washington territory, and needed assistance. General Milroy has many friends in Fort Wayne, who will be sorry to hear of his sad condition.

Passenger travel over the Wabash main line is reported to be unusually heavy. Probably at no time in the history of the road has the physical condition of the property been better. This remark will apply more especially to the road-bed. Some of the passenger equipments are hardly up to the standard, but as fast as it can be put through the shops it is being put in the best of shape. The company's through trains haul six to eight coaches, and they are almost invariably well filled with passengers.

The Indianapolis Journal says: "The Wabash pay car paid at Fort Wayne on the 31st of August for July, which causes the Fort Wayne SENTINEL to remark that this is the first time in six years that the Wabash company has paid the men at that point for work done in the month prior, the payments usually being sixty days or more behind. By the by, how is it that the court which rules that labor shall be first paid for allows the receivers to use money to pay other bills before labor is paid?"

Work on the Muskegon, Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad is being rapidly pushed. The grading will be completed in about three weeks. Next week the track laying will be commenced from the Muskegon end, and with the aid of a new track laying machine, will be laid at the rate of a mile and a half per day.

An Andrews correspondent says: "Lou Fording, of Fort Wayne, visited relatives a few days this week.—Dan Shea, of Fort Wayne, is working at Trainmaster Boughton's office during H. F. Swartzell's absence.—Master Claude Moore, son of G. W. Moore, went to Fort Wayne on Tuesday to visit among friends until Saturday."

Is it possible that Allen county has any democratic candidates who would procure the lithographing and publication of a forged document to defeat an opponent for nomination? This will not do, gentlemen. The Journal takes no sides in these matters, but it does demand fair play among all candidates.—Journal.

Such stuff as the above makes us feel sick at the stomach. The Journal knows full well that no democratic candidate had anything whatever to do with the matter referred to above, and it shows bad taste in throwing out insinuations.

COL. ROBERTSON Writes a Letter Detailing a Funny Incident of Army Life.

The old 20th Indiana regiment is in session at Logansport, and some five or six Fort Wayne soldiers, under Captain Reese, are having a fine camp fire. This letter was read last night:

FORT WAYNE, IND., June 14, 1886.
Capt. W. E. Brown, Valparaiso, Ind.:

My Dear Sir:—I send you the memorandum I spoke of when I met you at Indianapolis.

On the 29th of June, 1863, while marching north through Maryland, I was in command of a provost guard. At Woodsboro the road was lined by cherry trees of large size, and the halting column soon furnished a large voluntary detail to pick cherries, and as many men as the trees would bear were swarming in the branches eating and throwing down bunches to those below. General Tyler, commanding the reserve artillery, had dismounted and was sitting on a horse block before a house when a well-loaded branch fell near him. He started for it and reached it just as a private soldier was "going for it." The disappointed soldier, without looking to see who his successful rival was, drew back and administered a hearty kick on the general's posterior while he was all stooping, and the kick sent him sprawling in the mud of the road.

The soldier gave his name as Mescham, of the Twentieth Indiana. I had seen the whole affair and knew he was not intending an insult, and advised him to clear out and join his regiment, but he was pugnacious and said he would fight it out, but during the darkness he slipped away on the march and I never heard of the matter again, either from General Tyler or Mescham.

He is probably the only soldier from Indiana who had the proud distinction of kicking a general's posterior. Yours truly,
R. S. ROBERTSON.

My nerves were all shattered with rheumatism. There was no strength in my hands or feet; and oh, such pain! worse at night than in the day. Athlophores acted like a charm and made a great change in me. David Littell, Sumner, Iowa.

The Republican State Convention.

Col. R. S. Robertson Nominated for Lieutenant Governor on the First Ballot.

The Platform Declares Squarely for Local Option, and Senator Harrison Speaks.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

The Faithful Gathering at Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 2.—The city is alive with republican politicians and the principal hotels are crowded to their utmost capacities. "All present or accounted for," may be said in reference to the delegates, and they certainly had an interesting time of it yesterday. It was a field day for the candidates; they realized it, and made their last efforts their best. There is every indication that the personnel of the convention will be above the republican average. The crowd is large, but the enthusiasm is not so great as might be expected in such an assemblage. One striking feature prominently displayed by those who make up the lobby is the ignorance manifested touching the names of the candidates and the names of the offices they are running for.

At the caucus of the Allen county delegation last evening, it was decided that Allen county present no candidate for lieutenant governor. Col. Sam B. Sweet was elected chairman of the delegation and will announce its vote in the convention. It is expected that other counties will announce Col. Robertson for lieutenant governor. The Twelfth district caucus convened with ex-Senator McCortney, of Steuben, as chairman and T. P. Keator as secretary. It reported to the convention the following members of the committee:

Permanent organization, G. W. Wilton, Allen.
Resolutions, Judge Walter Olds, Whitley.
Vice president, Capt. J. B. White, Allen.
Credentialed, Senator Drake, Lagrange.
Assistant secretary, J. P. Erickett, Noble.

THE CONVENTION.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 2.—Republican state convention met at 11 o'clock today. Senator Harrison was chosen chairman and John L. Ropes, of Richmond, secretary. The committee on resolutions reported their report, arranging the national and state administrations and embodying a platform which was unanimously adopted.

The platform begins by the declaration that the security of the government rests on equal, intelligent and honest ballot, and with the renewal of the protest against ballot frauds, charging the democratic party in Indiana with a flagrant crime against free suffrage in the passage of an infamous gerrymander. It favors protection to workmen against oppressive corporations and monopolies. It opposes the impurification of contract labor and the unfair competition of convict labor, and recommends a law for the preservation of the life and health of workmen. It favors the principle of protection for development of our own resources; condemns the declaration of the Indiana democracy in favor of free trade, and declares that gold, silver and paper circulation should be kept on equal and permanent values.

It favors civil service law and its application to the state administration wherever practicable. It favors the reservation of public lands for small holdings by actual settlers as against the holders by foreigners. It favors the control of railroad and other corporations, and more liberal pension law provisions.

It recommends an appropriation for a soldiers' monument at the state capital. It favors the division of the soldiers' orphan home from home of feeble minded children, a strict honesty in the distribution of the school fund, a just law for the compensation of all public officials, striking out the word "white" from article 12 of the constitution, so that colored men may become militia.

It recommends a revision of the tax laws, congratulates the people on the unanimous opposition of all classes to the imported crime of anarchism, and declares that the attempted domination of the political parties by the liquor league must be defeated and favors local option.

It expresses sympathy for Ireland's attempt to gain home rule, indorses the public acts of Senator Harrison and of the representative congress. It mourns the death of Grant and favors the congressional appropriation for his monument in Washington.

The platform closes with allusion to Colfax, whose name was coupled with Grant and whose memory deserved preservation.

When Senator Harrison, on taking the chair, rose to address the audience of 5,000 persons, he was greeted with round after round of applause. His speech was an arraignment of the democratic administration, both national and state. He dwelt with bitter emphasis on the gerrymander by the last democratic legislature. He said this is the dominant and controlling question in the campaign in Indiana, and he would have all hear in mind that this disfranchisement does not simply operate upon the republicans, but affects the entire majority vote of the state.

The convention proceeded to the nominations. R. S. Robertson, of Allen county, was nominated for lieutenant governor; Charles L. Griffin, of Lake, for secretary of state, and Bruce Carr, of Orange county, for auditor.

J. A. Lempke, Vanderburg, treasurer. A resolution offered by R. W. Thompson, extending sympathy to the Charleston sufferers and pledging the convention to a material contribution in their behalf, was approved with great enthusiasm.

A CONGLOMERATE PARTY.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 2.—A meeting of the Farmer's alliance, greenbackers, etc., was held here yesterday. There were about forty representatives present from Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois, and representatives from Indianapolis swelled the number in attendance to nearly two hundred.

The only business transacted was the adoption of a series of resolutions and the appointment of committees to arrange for the national meeting at Cincinnati on the 22d of February, 1887. The Knights of Labor appeared to be the predominating influence in the meeting.

MISSOURI REPUBLICANS.

SEBASTIA, Mo., Sept. 2.—The republican state convention adjourned sine die this morning at 4:15. The question of submitting the proposed amendment to the constitution was compromised. The plank in question as adopted affirms that whenever any large number of voters petition the legislature for the submission of an amendment providing a change in the organic law of the state, it is the duty of that body to grant the petition. J. C. Graver, of Kansas City, was nominated for supreme judge.

A. C. Harris was nominated as the candidate of the republicans for congress in the Seventh Indianapolis district yesterday.

Yellow Fever in the South.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 2.—Great excitement was created to-day all along the lake shore when it became known that Mrs. Hunt, Salomon and Seales had decided the case of fever at Biloxi to be yellow fever. At Biloxi a panic prevailed, and hundreds of persons came to this city by train to-day. They say they do not fear yellow fever, but are not willing to suffer the inconveniences of a quarantine.

A Fund for the Bates Children.
RICHMOND, Ind., Sept. 2.—A fund was started to-day for Mattie and Stella Bates, aged seven and five, daughters of Nathaniel S. Bates, hanged last Thursday, to be invested for their benefit. They are living now at Hagerstown with their grandmother.

Doesn't Want to be Vice-President.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Senator Voorhees denies point-blank that he would give up the senatorship to become vice-president.

Brewers Strike.

St. Louis, Sept. 1.—There is a strike of 100 brewing employees to-day and 600 will go out to-morrow. The brewers demanded they should quit their union. They refused, hence the strike.

The Ocar Objects.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.—The city is gaily decorated in honor of the return of Prince Alexander to Bulgaria, and is crowded with visitors. The Ocar of Russia refuses to approve the return of Prince Alexander and says he will yet extricate Bulgaria from her present condition.

TWO MEN KILLED.

A Dreadful Logging Accident in Michigan.

SHREVEPORT, Mich., Sept. 2.—A terrible accident occurred on Blodgett & Byrnes' logging railroad, eight miles from here, yesterday. An engine left the train at the top of the grade, took one brakeman and went a short distance to take on wood. While the cars at the top of the grade were being loaded, one car got away from the men and ran down the grade into the engine. The engineer, fireman and brakeman had just finished loading the tender, and got on the engine to start back, when the car struck them. Ernest Wilcox, fireman, and James Mostler, brakeman, were instantly killed. The engineer escaped alive with serious injuries, but not fatal.

An Indiana Volcano.

MOOREY, Sept. 2.—Persons just in from the northeastern corner of Lawrence county tell interesting stories of volcanic indications in the earth near there, very similar to what occurred some time ago at Bald Mountain, N. C. Rumbles in the earth are heard, and occasionally sharp explosions occur. On the farm of Christian Linkenbach, one of the most severe of these explosions occurred, not over 150 yards from the house. The noise was like the explosion of a steam boiler, and the earth was torn up for yards around. A cloud of dust and smoke ascended sixty feet high. In it were pieces of mineral, stumps of trees, roots and rocks. The earth for yards around was covered with the debris, and a great hole was left in the ground, very deep, which has not yet been explored. Among the debris were fragments of ore which were almost solid iron. The country is very rough and broken and well filled with minerals.

FOR $5,000.

J. B. Neizer Sues the Gazette for Damages.

For a few days the Gazette has insinuated that J. B. Neizer, a candidate for auditor, was interested in the Bohemian oats business. They had a bond which Mr. Neizer declared to be a forgery. The Gazette published the bond this morning with Neizer's denial, adding that he said in that office that his only offense was in introducing Bohemian oats agents. This brought the controversy to a question of authority and late this afternoon Mr. Neizer sued T. P. Keator and B. M. Holman, of the Gazette, for $5,000 for their assertions against him.

Mr. Neizer embodies all the Gazette articles in his complaint, but gives especial prominence to the Gazette this morning. Mr. Keator is at Indianapolis and Mr. Holman could not be seen as the suit was filed late. Both sides have engaged counsel.

Mr. W. E. McDermut is acting city editor of the Gazette, during Mr. Keator's absence.

South Bend, Ind., is supplied with water from sixteen artesian wells, with a capacity of 18,000,000 gallons daily.

The St. John's German Lutheran church will hold their annual mission festival at Reidmiller's grove next Sunday.

Manager Perry to-day received notice that all messages for the relief of the Charleston sufferers would be sent free by the Western Union Telegraph company.

The Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad still finds it necessary to remind their passengers by placards that children between the ages of five and twelve must pay half fare.

Harry Worlen has organized a gatting gun squad and Adjutant General Kountz writes that a gatting gun will be sent here inside a month, to be kept in the government building.

The many friends of Colonel R. S. Robertson will be pleased to learn of his nomination as lieutenant governor by the republican state convention at Indianapolis to-day. The colonel is very popular in his own party, and has many warm personal friends among the bourgeois.

There was an enthusiastic prayer meeting last evening at the Baptist church. There were 255 present and 162 testimonials. Pastor Northrop is just entering upon his fifth year. During the four years over 400 have been added to the church and all have been loyal but twenty. In the mean time between sixteen and seventeen thousand dollars have been raised for current and benevolent expenses. The outlook for the coming year was never more hopeful.

LIFE!

Appears at Wrecked Charleston.

The Frightened Population is Rescuing the Dead, Aiding the Wounded and Figuring the Damage.

Efforts to Relieve the City Which Still is Shocked by Continuous Waves.

CHARLESTON.

How the Wrecked City Looks To-day.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 2.—In addition to the damages previously reported, the South Carolina railroad office, on John street, are cracked, but stand. Wm. O. Bird & Co.'s wholesale paint store was shaken down. W. E. Holmes & Co., next door, are in a similar condition. Part of the walls of the bagging factory were destroyed. The principal streets are littered with bricks and rubbish. The city hall escaped damage but the steeples of St. Michael's and St. Philip's churches will have to come down. The massive portion of the St. Michael's was wrenched from the body of the church and the cracks in the main building extends to the foundation. All of the portico of Bishop Northrop's residence was swept away. The Academy of Music appears to be uninjured. The Charleston hotel loss is the ceilings and part of the coping. The German Artillery hall is somewhat injured. The water works building and reservoir are uninjured. Several buildings on Maynes street were gutted. The injury to St. Philip's church, previously mentioned, is almost indecipherable. Several arches of the pier above the clock tower were torn down and thrown out. Among the residences seriously damaged are those of Captain Dawson, of the News and Courier; General Siegling, the late St. Julian ravens; L. G. Treuholm, C. O. Wittie, George Gibbons, J. L. Tobias, H. Bulwinkle, Preston Smith and Alderman Murray.

On Sullivan's Island the shock was severe, but comparatively little injury done, and no lives were lost. Many summer visitors came up to the city this morning.

On James island the earth cracked in many places, and from the fissures issued large bodies of cold water, mixed with sand and blue mud. The clocks everywhere stopped at about 9:40.

At Mount Pleasant there was a general shaking up, but no loss of life. There are many fissures and cavities from which fresh water and mud come. Fine sand has also come to the surface in Charleston.

It is contended here that there was a twist or turn in the motion of the earthquake, and it had not simply an undulating motion. Articles of furniture and lamps have been found which are turned partly around, in addition to visible effects of simple wave motion.

RELIEF FUND STARTED.

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 2.—The American, last night, opened a subscription list for the relief of the sufferers by the Charleston disaster and headed it with $500.

GREAT EXCITEMENT.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The Western Union officials state that no messages sent to Charleston last night could be delivered on account of the general confusion. Hotels are empty and people have deserted their dwellings, encamped in the open lots and so cannot be found. The main office of the Western Union Telegraph company in Charleston was badly wrecked, batteries destroyed and all instruments ruined by falling bricks and plastering. An office has been opened about a mile and a half from the old one and two wires have been placed in working order. None of their employees were seriously injured.

At 5 this morning all their operators were compelled to quit their posts and seek rest. The excitement had been so great that for forty-eight hours they had obtained no sleep. The Western Union company desire to announce through the Associated press, that they will gladly forward to Charleston any contributions of money for the sufferers and messages pertaining thereto free of charge. At one this morning there was another slight shock of earthquake felt, but it did no damage. The company hopes to get all wires working to-day.

PRER MESSAGES.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The Western

Union Telegraph company has issued the following order: To general and district superintendents:—You are authorized to send free messages of relief for the Charleston sufferers.

NORVIN GREEN, Pres.

UNCLE SAM'S SHERIFF.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—General Drum, acting secretary of war, has directed that tents be sent to Charleston to shelter the homeless people, and as the railroad communications are interrupted, revenue cutters will transport the tents to the distressed city.

GETTING AT THE FACTS.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 2.—People are just beginning to pick up courage to come out. Efforts are being made to clear paths through the streets for the passage of vehicles and pedestrians. The city once more begins to show some signs of life. People have done nothing but huddle on squares. A small detail of relief parties are going on to find the dead in the debris or succor the wounded. The first systematized effort to get at the fact is now being made.

A list of the dead recognized and reported this morning at this time, 11 o'clock, foot up to sixteen, and the search has only commenced. The list of wounded will go into the hundreds. About seven-eighths of the houses and public buildings in the city are either damaged or wrecked. Even the historic St. Michael's and St. Philip's churches are so badly wrecked that it is feared they will have to be taken down. Waves from 9:55 Tuesday night, have been coming about once every five or six hours. There has been none now for twelve hours, and strong hopes are entertained that the horrors are about over.

OTHER PLACES.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 2.—Specials to the News and Courier from points in South Carolina, ranging from the extreme northwest to the sea coast, reports severe shocks of earthquake, with more or less damage to property, though without loss of life so far as known. In Orangeburg the people became so much alarmed that many moved to Columbia. Loss $3,000,000.

CHARLESTON, Sept. 2.—As the details of the calamity in this city are gathered its effects become more and more alarming. It is also feared that much distress will prevail, as by far the larger part of those whose property has been destroyed or seriously damaged belong to the poorer classes. The aggregate loss is expected to reach three millions. The wharves, warehouses and business facilities of the city are generally unaffected by the catastrophe, and Charleston is as ready as ever for the transaction of business.

DEAD AND WOUNDED.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 2.—The official total of deaths is 38, and wounded probably 100. Business is still suspended, the whole attention of the people being given for providing provisions and residences safe. Bricklayers have advanced the rates to $6 a day. The city council will probably meet to-morrow to provide measures for relieving the poor. Expressions of gratitude are heard on all sides for the assistance offered Charleston.

They Found the Package.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.—A rumor, which is quite generally credited, states that the Adams Express company received news last evening of the finding of a package of money amounting to nearly $30,000, which was shipped by the Pennsylvania company to Shamokin, Pa., about ten days ago, and which disappeared in some manner from the express company's office in this city. It is said the package was accidentally placed in the wrong safe and sent to some point in Iowa.

Stocking's Address.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—S. M. Stocking, assistant commissioner of general land office, has issued an address to the democratic voters of the Third Indiana congressional district, withdrawing from the contest for a seat in congress from that district this fall.

Boat Races.

ROUSE'S POINT, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Hosmer won the sculling race here to-day by eight lengths. He made the first mile and a half in 10 minutes 10 seconds, and three miles in 21 minutes 15 seconds.

James Bruce, of Albion, has removed to Fort Wayne.

Will Fleming has left Narragansett Pier and will arrive home this week.

The salvation army at LaPorte was rotten-egged and applied again Sunday night.

The weather indications for Indiana are fair weather, nearly stationary temperature.

A Woman Kills Her Seducer and Then Commits Suicide, at Xenia, Ohio.

ROBBED OF $5,000.

An Indiana Farmer Victimized by Sharks.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Sept. 2.—Yesterday afternoon William McClintic, a wealthy farmer of this county, borrowed $5,000 from the First National bank to close a bargain of some sort with two strangers. He started for the country with the larger one of the two and the cash, and when they had reached a secluded spot the other man put in an appearance and the two robbed him and made their escape. They took a buggy belonging to a livery stable here. The men had been working on McClintic for ten days to catch him. The victim is eighty years old, worth $75,000, and accounted one of the shrewdest men in the county in handling money, although he can neither read nor write. Sheriff Brown returned this morning, after an all night search for a trace of the robbers. At Edinburg the large man hired a boy and a rig, saying he was going to Franklin, but turned west and is bending in the direction of Bloomington. Telegrams, describing the robber, have been sent to all the towns in that part of the state, and the sheriff will go this afternoon to Martinsville, where a supposed trace of them is said to exist. The large man represented himself to McClintic as Louis Lehman, a well known dry goods merchant of this city.

FAITH CURE.

ANDERSON, Ind., Sept. 2.—A most remarkable faith cure has occurred near this city. The happy subject (Albert Wampler) related his experience to your correspondent this morning in a graphic manner, as follows: "About five years ago I was stricken with palsy in my limbs. The doctors pronounced it rheumatism and I was treated for the same, but I failed to receive any relief whatever and I continually grew worse. I could not take a single step without the aid of crutches or cane, and at no time have I been free from pain until August 24, when all at once, during a season of prayer held for my special benefit, I arose, laid aside my crutches, and to the utter astonishment and surprise of all I walked unaided. At the same time all pain left me and while I experienced some weakness occasioned from my long confinement yet I am perfectly well and sound and gaining in strength every day. The disease had so deformed me that I was unable to straighten up, being compelled to go bent over, but now, thank God, you see I am as straight as any one."

Mr. Wampler is about twenty-seven years old, and he firmly believes he was cured through faith in prayer.

A Seducer Assassinated.

XENIA, O., Sept. 2.—At Bowersville, Greene county, last night, a shotgun loaded with slugs was fired through the parlor window of the hotel, killing Jos. Zeiner, the man who a few months since refused to fulfill his promise of marriage to Rosa Johnston, of Jamestown, who then blew her brains out, after attempting fruitlessly to kill Zeiner. The young man when killed was enjoying the society of two young ladies, all three sitting on a sofa. The girls were not injured. There is no clew to the assassin, and probably never will be.

A Husband Deserted.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Ernest Schilling, the husband of Victoria Morisint, has been deserted by his wife. It is supposed she has gone to her father.

The curious question has been asked why oaks and elms are especially liable to be struck by lightning. It was declared in 1787 that the elm, chestnut, oak, and pine were the trees most often struck in America, and in 1880 C. J.
Symonds stated that the elm, oak, ash, and poplar were the most frequently struck in England. A Magazine record, covering ten years, reports injuries to 265 trees, 165 being oaks, 34 Scotch fir, 32 pines, and 20 beeches. It has been suggested that the frequency with which oaks are struck is due to the presence of iron in the wood.

MARK TWAIN was asked by a Hartford base-ball enthusiast to give a subscription to the local club. He sent a check for $25 and a letter in which he said there was only one thing that prevented him from contributing $50 instead of $25. He is not very well up in base-ball, and when he goes out to the grounds he takes a seat near Blank, (mentioning the name of a prominent base-ball man.) "I always politely ask him to give me points on the game," the letter continues, "but instead of that he looks very hard at me, and I am afraid he will drop me over the grand-stand some time or another."

Nor many years ago Mr. Tilden formed an attachment for a daughter of the late Prof. S. F. B. Morse, and offered her his heart and hand. The lady did not look with favor on his suit, although the advantages of the connection were so great and it was so warmly advocated by her own family. Mr.
Tilden's proposal was twice declined.
But his want of success made no difference in the friendly feeling of the parties concerned, and when, shortly afterward, Miss Lucia Morse married Mr.
Frank Hammett, the well-known pianist,
one of the wedding presents was a $1,000 check from Mr. Tilden.

DONALDSON, the swimmer, recently swam the Mohawk at Schenectady, tied hand and foot. A young athlete thought he could do the same, and after a friend had well tied him, he started to cross the river. Half way across he gave out and went down.
His frightened friend in a boat tried to get him into the boat, but couldn't.
Neither could he untie the ropes.
Meanwhile the swimmer was taken with severe cramps. Finally the man in the boat tied a rope around the swimmer's neck, and thus towed the half-drowned athlete to shore, where it took considerable rubbing and stimulant to reduce the cramps and get the youth in good condition again.

The old proverb is certainly true in the case of Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Tur-gative Pellets," which are little, sugar-wrapped parcels, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, containing as much cathartic power as is done up in the biggest, most repulsive-looking pill. Unlike the big pills, however, they are mild and pleasant in their operation—do not produce griping pains, nor render the bowels costive after using.

A SUBMARINE TORPEDO BOAT.

Julius Verne's Dream Realized in a Craft Constructed by a Yankee Inventor.
There is now in New York harbor a marine wonder in the shape of a boat that will sail under water for miles, or that can remain at the bottom for days without inconvenience to the crew, who can at any time leave the boat and come to the surface without accident.
The boat is the invention of Professor J. H.
L. Tucker, and is intended for use in harbor defense by attaching torpedoes to the bottom of hostile vessels, then backing away to a safe distance and firing the torpedoes through electric wires connected with them.

THE PEACEMAKER UNDER A VESSEL.

This boat is aptly called "the Peacemaker," from the fact that its possibilities of destruction are so great that it renders it a question whether it will pay the powers to go on constructing great ironclads costing millions of dollars apiece, that can be demolished in an instant by a little vessel like this, costing but a few thousands. The larger and heavier the ironclad the better and surer would she fall a prey to a destroyer that would steal on her from underneath. When war is carried on with such wholesale destructiveness the great powers will call a halt, so that inventions like this boat tend toward a more general peace.
The Peacemaker is 30 feet long, with a breadth of beam of 8 1/2 feet, and depth of 7 1/2 feet. The bow and stern taper off from amidships, and the forward end of the vessel is surmounted by a dome 13 inches high which is set with glass and just large enough for the pilot to get his head into. Admission to the boat is through a circular scuttle about of the dome. At the stern there is a propeller and a rudder of ordinary fashion, and two horizontal rudders with which the boat may be deflected up or down. The interior is half filled with machinery and mechanical devices, including a powerful little Westinghouse engine. Compressed air is stored in six-inch pipes running around the interior, and arrangements are made by which air may be supplied by elements. A gauge registers the depth of the vessel beneath the surface. Light is furnished by the incandescent electric lamp.

THE TORPEDOES ATTACHED.

When used in warfare the Peacemaker will sail away from its place in hiding on shore, sail under water and meet an approaching vessel. The pilot removes the dunnage and stands in a diver's suit in a well with half of his body projecting above the boat. He releases two torpedoes attached together with a chain and fastened to corked magnets, which will attach themselves tenaciously to the iron or steel bottom of the vessel. The torpedo boat is then steered away to a safe distance, and the torpedoes fired by electricity.
In some recent experiments the Peacemaker sailed for a couple of miles under the Hudson river, coming to the surface and diving under vessels at will. She was then sunk in fifty feet of water, and the crew left her and came to the surface to demonstrate how easily they could abandon in case of accident or hide her on the bottom in a war emergency.

FOR THE ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

The New Parliament Buildings to be Erected in Toronto, Canada.

THE NEW ONTARIO PROVINCIAL BUILDINGS.

The new Ontario legislative and departmental buildings to be erected in the Queen's park, Toronto, Canada, will be in what is known as open court shape, will have a frontage of 400 feet, the total depth of each wing being 241 feet. The size of the legislative chamber, situated in the center of the structure, will be 65 by 55 feet. The main building will be approached by terraced steps 35 feet in length to a stone porch, traversed in a series of arches supported upon connected columns with enriched bases and carved capitals, forming a grand vestibule, 29 feet in width, the vestibule hall & spacious proportions is reached. The grand staircase hall is 60 feet wide by 62 feet deep. The grand staircase, to be constructed of stone, the main flight being 22 feet in width, and having two side flights, will ascend to the legislative chamber on the first floor. On the left of the grand staircase hall will be an alcove or a postoffice distributing room, and on the right a corresponding alcove for passenger elevators with a corridor connecting with arcaded and glazed corridors on the right and left. These latter corridors will be 34 by 38 feet, with entrances to apartments on either side, and also connecting with side corridors and approaches to the building.
There will be four elevators altogether in the building, two in the center and one on each wing. A number of vaults will also be built in a series of stacks so arranged as to provide each department on the different floors with ample fire-proof vault accommodation. All the departments are disposed so as implicitly to meet with their requirements and be readily found.
The whole will possess heating and sanitary arrangements as well as fire precautions that will equal any public building on the continent.
Eight members of congress have died during the present administration.

A man was run over by the south-bound midnight train on the Wabash, last night, a half mile south of Kokomo, and instantly killed. He was picked up an hour later by Conductor Ralshack, of the north-bound train. His body was mangled in a horrible manner, but the remains were recognized to-day as those of Jackson Forths, a single man, aged forty-two years, and who resided near Galveston, Ind.

Dr. J. W. Youngs had a long talk with Captain Pratt, the Indian agent, last night, at the McKinney house. The captain stated that Major General R. H. Milroy, formerly of Indiana, and one of the bravest generals in the late war, was living in abject poverty at Olympia, Washington territory, and needed assistance. General Milroy has many friends in Fort Wayne, who will be sorry to hear of his sad condition.

Passenger travel over the Wabash main line is reported to be unusually heavy. Probably at no time in the history of the road has the physical condition of the property been better. This remark will apply more especially to the road-bed. Some of the passenger equipments are hardly up to the standard, but as fast as it can be put through the shops it is being put in the best of shape. The company's through trains haul six to eight coaches, and they are almost invariably well filled with passengers.

The Indianapolis Journal says: "The Wabash pay our paid at Fort Wayne on the 31st of August for July, which causes the Fort Wayne SENTINEL to remark that this is the first time in six years that the Wabash company has paid the men at that point for work done in the month prior, the payments usually being sixty days or more behind. By the by, how is it that the court which rules that labor shall be first paid for allows the receivers to use money to pay other bills before labor is paid?"

Work on the Muskegon, Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad is being rapidly pushed. The grading will be completed in about three weeks. Next week the track laying will be commenced from the Muskegon end, and, with the aid of a new track laying machine, will be laid at the rate of a mile and a half per day.

An Andrews correspondent says: "Lou Fordling, of Fort Wayne, visited relatives a few days this week.—Dan Shea, of Fort Wayne, is working at Trainmaster Boughton's office during H. F. Swartzell's absence.—Master Claude Moore, son of G. W. Moore, went to Fort Wayne on Tuesday to visit among friends until Saturday."

Is it possible that Allen county has any democratic candidates who would procure the lithographing and publication of a forged document to defeat an opponent for nomination? This will not do, gentlemen. The Journal takes no sides in these matters, but it does demand fair play among all candidates.—Journal.

Such stuff as the above makes us feel sick at the stomach. The Journal knows full well that no democratic candidate had anything whatever to do with the matter referred to above, and it shows bad taste in throwing out insinuations.

COL. ROBERTSON Writes a Letter Detailing a Funny Incident of Army Life.

The old 20th Indiana regiment is in session at Logansport, and some five or six Fort Wayne soldiers, under Captain Reese, are having a fine camp fire. This letter was read last night:

FORT WAYNE, IND., June 14, 1886.

Capt. W. E. Brown, Valparaiso, Ind.:

My Dear Sir:—I send you the memorandum I spoke of when I met you at Indianapolis.

On the 28th of June, 1863, while marching north through Maryland, I was in command of a provost guard. At Woodboro the road was lined by cherry trees of large size, and the halting column soon furnished a large voluntary detail to pick cherries, and as many men as the trees would bear were swarming in the branches eating and throwing down bunches to those below. General Tyler, commanding the reserve artillery, had dismounted and was sitting on a horse block before a house when a well-loaded branch fell near him. He started for it and reached it just as a private soldier was "going for it." The disappointed soldier, without looking to see who his successful rival was, drew back and administered a hearty kick on the general's posterior while he was still stooping, and the kick sent him sprawling in the mud of the road.

The general was very angry, and directed me to place the soldier under guard and report him at his headquarters at the end of the day's march. The soldier gave his name as Mescham, of the Twentieth Indiana. I had seen the whole affair and knew he was not intending an insult, and advised him to clear out and join his regiment, but he was pugnacious and said he would fight it out, but during the darkness he slipped away on the march and I never heard of the matter again, either from General Tyler or Mescham.

He is probably the only soldier from Indiana who had the proud distinction of kicking a general's posterior. Yours truly,
R. S. ROBERTSON.

My nerves were all shattered with rheumatism. There was no strength in my hands or feet; and oh, such pain! worse at night than in the day. Athlophoros acted like a charm and made a great change in me. David Littell, Sumner, Iowa.
